Civic Centre Funds To Be Turned Over to Sports Association

At a special meeting held on Thursday, April 25, of the Coleman Civic Centre Committee, under the chairmanship of Mayor Aboussafy, with representatives of local organizations in attendance, the minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. It was moved and seconded that Treasurer Bond's report of approximately $2900.00 cash, plus $1000.00 from the sale of lots, if and when they are sold, be turned over to the Sports Association for the purpose of repairs and improvements to the Arena. Further to this, all pledges would be paid back.

The Coleman Community Sports Association are in dire straits in regards to cash to carry on the maintenance of the Arena. It was felt by all parties concerned that the Civic Centre fund would greatly help the Association in continuing the operation of the Arena.

Former Coleman Girls Body Found

The body of Grace Frolak, age 21, of Creston, was found in a lake in Washington state on Sunday morning. She went missing on Feb. 14th.

Grace who attended school here from Grade one to Grade nine resided with Mr. and Mrs. J. Lepacek.

She was predeceased by her brother several years ago. She is survived by two sisters, Ella and (Mary) Mrs. Henry Buckens, both of Creston.

Funeral services were conducted at Creston on Wednesday. Mrs. J. Lepacek of Coleman attended.

Another Crows Nest Pass Mine Closed

After months of persistent rumor the facts have finally come to the surface. The Greenhill Mine of the West Canadian Collieries in Blairmore has ceased operations.

This is the third mine in the last three years to close down — Hillcrest Mohawk, International, and now, Greenhill.

Tools were removed by a grim-faced body of miners as they walked from the last shift in the mine Tuesday at 4:00 p.m., April 30. Over 240 men face the prospect of finding other employment.

William Kovach, MLA, conferred with Premier Manning Saturday on the announced closing of the Greenhill Mine, and as a result the special committee that has been studying the situation in the Crows Nest Pass mines are returning to see what can be done to halt the shut-down.

Reason given by officials for the suspension of operations is the complete deterioration of markets for coal, caused mainly by the dieselization of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Continue at Bellevue

It was learned the interior workings of the Greenhill, the iron works; Wemco plant and the thipple will suspend operations but the Grassy Mountain strip mine, the Bellevue WCC underground mine and thipple will continue in operation.

In an interview with WCC general manager William Bird, who confirmed this report early Saturday morning, it was pointed out the company is compelled with considerable reluctance to suspend operations, and converge all operations to the one mine at Bellevue rather than continue operation...

Opened in 1914

Greenhill mine opened in the spring of 1914 with a normal employment of 550 men. Amount invested in the mine is in the excess of $5,000,000, and since operations began, over 15 million tons of coal have been produced.

At present 250 men have been employed and of these only a few will be absorbed into the Bellevue Mine operations.

Production capacity of the Greenhill at present, is about 600,000 tons of coal plus 150,000 tons of briquettes per year. The annual payroll runs $1,500,000.

West Canadian Collieries began mining in the Blairmore region in 1904 with the opening of the mine at Lillie and in 1909 opened a mine on the south side of Blairmore. The company has produced coal in the area for 53 consecutive years.

To keep the mines going there is a great and immediate need for markets for one-quarter million tons of coal, which it is felt could be effected by the installation of a thermal power plant to meet the shortage of electrical energy.

Although mine operations at the Greenhill are suspended, there is a possibility of a power plant being built in the area, which would bring back life into Blairmore. When questioned regarding the election of a steel smelter and power plant in the Blairmore district, Mr. Bird refused to comment.

The big day will end with a large fireworks display.

Former Coleman Teacher Promoted To College Head

W. J. Cousins, M.A., of the Lethbridge (educative) Institute staff has been recommended by the newly organized Lethbridge Junior College board for the position of acting dean of the college, scheduled to go into operation in September.

The appointment does not become final until an agreement is signed between the Junior college board and Lethbridge public school board, authorizing the public school board to operate and administer the school.

This formal agreement presently waits on a report from a steering committee set up by the college board setting out the powers of each board. After this agreement is final, the right to hire staff members will be left to the public school board.

As dean, Mr. Cousins will act as director of the college, will take an active part in setting up a course of studies, and recruiting students.

Mr. Cousins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cousins, old-time residents of Coleman. He was a teacher in the Central school for a number of years.

West Coleman Lad Suffers Minor Burns

Jackie Yeliga, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Yeliga, suffered painful minor burns on Friday morning.

Mr. Yeliga was burning rubbish in the alley and had put a grease can on the fire. Jackie was standing nearby when a small tin exploded inside the great can, spattering him.

He was rushed to the hospital where he was treated for minor burns on the hands and face.

Ambitious Cyclists Stop In Coleman

Two ambitious cyclists from Trail arrived in Coleman Thursday afternoon — minus razors — after completing the first week of a Cross-Canada tour which, they hope will end at St. John's Newfoundland, in the not-too-distant future.

Ralph Milton, 22, and Fraser McAlpine, 19, formerly dice jockey and newsreader, respectively, at Station CJAT, Trail.

They left Trail on April 16th and found the going good except for a stretch of new construction around Moyle Lake and between Elko and Fernie, where they ran into stiff headwinds and a rain storm.

Travelling in a leisurely manner that nets them about 30 miles a day, the boys carry about 30 pounds of camping and cooking equipment each. They have no set schedule and stop whenever they run into disagreeable weather.

"We are travelling on a limited budget," said young Fraser McAlpine. "We pitch our tent at night and also do our own cooking — such as it is. We hope eventually to get to England and see what gives with the BBC. We also hope to make some contacts with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation."

Ralph Milton, who originally hails from Winnipeg, said he does not expect to return to Trail after their trip is completed and he decides to settle down.

"We'd like to see as much of Canada as possible before we tie ourselves down to something steady — and it's now or never," said the pair as they resumed their journey.

Winners announced for school poster competition

Prize winners have been announced in the annual poster competition for pupils in Saskatchewan Schools, sponsored by the Saskatchewan Fire Commissioners Office.

"The competition has been divided into two sections in past years," said Hon. C. C. Williams, Minister in Charge of the Fire Prevention Act, "and although we received 259 entries this year, only 30 of these were in the high school section. High school submissions were not up to the usual standard and the judges withheld the senior section prizes, awarding, instead, two firsts, two seconds and two third prizes in the public school class."

First prize winners were Constance Weber, of grade eight at Meadow Lake and Harry Geddes, of grade six in Pearl School, Regina. Second prizes went to Mary Harder of grade seven in Alexander school, North Battleford and Ann Louise Burton, of grade seven in Moose Jaw's Westmount school. Third prizes were won by Lois Eleanor Dodds of grade five at Porcupine Plain, and Jack Heartwell of grade eight in Wetmore school, Regina.

Prizes were $25 for first, $10 for second and $5 for third.

Honorable mention went to Jack Wong, grade seven at Abbey, Len and Bob Goodyear, grade six in Pearl school, Regina.

Judges were Miss Stella Janis, assistant supervisor of visual education, Jim Hudson, Central Press production manager, Regina, and Mr. R. W. Switzer, Provincial Fire Commissioner.

"This is a splendid medium for interesting our future citizens in fire safety," said Mr. Williams after the judging. "Next year the competition will be in two sections with the division after grade six instead of between the public school and high school levels. We were greatly pleased with the calibre of winners this year, they showed an understanding approach to the more common types of fire hazard."

CKBI Prince Albert goes to 10,000 watts

Another milestone was reached in 1957 when CKBI, Prince Albert, increased its power from 5,000 to 10,000 watts. This power increase makes CKBI the first and highest powered private station in Saskatchewan and clinches over 30 years of development of the station from a hobby of several to a habit of thousands of Western Canadian listeners. — Star & Times, Swan River, Man., March 21, 1957.

Correspondence courses rapped

Another local man, John L. Penner, of Ste. Anne P.O. came to tell us about a correspondence course firm that he figured rated the racket category. He related that his daughter aged 18, wanted to become a nurse and had decided to take correspondence course to complete grade ten before entering nurses training.

She had mailed a coupon and a salesman called on her who explained that the course offered by his company was superior to any on the market, and that it was a government approved course. "First of all the man proves his dishonesty by charging less for the course than it actually cost," said Mr. Penner "and after I paid him $111.00 the company billed me for another ten, before they would begin sending the material. Had I said on a monthly basis of course, I would not have been caught in this way."

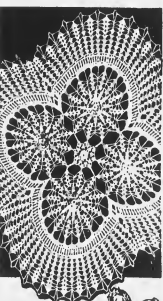

But that wasn't the worst of it. After daughter Wilma had studied diligently all winter, and was ready to write the departmental exams, she found that the Dept. of Education would not accept her, as several subjects needed were not on her correspondence course.

It will mean practically another year of school for Wilma but this time she will take it in Steinbach. — The Carrillon News, Steinbach, Man., Jan. 25, 1957.

What the family should know

Many of the skills taught in civil defence consist of practical knowledge that should be possessed by every household and other members of the family. Knowing how to turn off gas, water and electricity is helpful in many emergencies. The proper procedure in case of fire is another form of protection, not only for adult members of the family but also for the bigger children. Such needs arise in thousands of Canadian homes every year. It is a good idea to join a local civil defence organization and take advantage of free training courses. — The Times, Kamack, Sask.—Feb. 21, 1957.

Canada's oldest twins observe 90th birthday

The lone of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McPhee, West Wawanosh, was the scene, last Friday, of a very happy birthday celebration for his mother, Mrs. John McPhee, and her twin sister, Miss Martha (Mattie) McIlwain, who observed their 90th birthdays.

They have always celebrated this annual event together and despite their years are very active and enjoying good health. These ladies are daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. David McIlwain, pioneer West Wawanosh farmers, and lived in the Auburn area all their lives.

Mrs. McPhee, whose maiden name was Ellen McIlwain, married the late Mr. John McPhee, 62 years ago, but since his death in 1935 has resided with her son, Clifford. Besides these twin ladies, there is another sister, Mrs. John Tiffin, of Goderich, who was also present for the occasion. They are the only survivors of a family of 12 in which there was another set of twins.

Wanton slaughter of game growing worse in "Peace"

Wanton slaughter of game across the north posed one of the major problems discussed Tuesday at 85 forestry and game officers met here for a three-day conference.

Comment was made that "rangers are confronted with indiscriminate and out-of-season killing of moose and other game, and the situation is growing worse."

It was pointed out that in many areas, access provided by oil and lumber company bush roads offered out-of-season hunting to opportunists who "killed for the fun of it." Moose, deer, and caribou fell frequent victims to "triggar happy" men with rifles and no licence and who left the animals where they were killed.

How to prevent such law-breakers gave material for a wide open discussion. — The Herald Tribune, Grande Prairie, Alta.—March 1, 1957.

ROTTEN ICE

A bright sun can make a frozen stream or pond a death-trap for your children. Your Canadian Red Cross asks you to tell them of the dangers that lurk around the water at this time of the year. Young adventurers need this warning. Talk to your children today.

The unusually mild March weather will have its weakening effect upon the ice on lakes, rivers, streams, and ponds.

All those who have practised ice crossings all winter are urged to be most wary from now on.

Parents are urged to warn their children of the dangers of the rotting ice, particularly that which covers running streams or where run off water is apparent. The fact that there is not a blanket of insulating snow on most ice surfaces, is further warning that ice will rot more rapidly both from above and below.

It's time to start being cautious.

New debt financing continues

(Contributed by Houston, Willoughby & Co. Ltd.)

The past week has been a continuation of the good volume of financing in the debt field which has featured the markets so far in 1937.

Two new issues which were distributed this week in the corporate section totalled $45 million. One of these was under the credit of the British Columbia Telephone Co., and consisted of $25 million of 5½% 1st Mortgage bonds due April 1st, 1982. The price was $95.75 and accrued interest to yield 5.30%. The other offering was a $20 million Sinking Fund Debenture issue due April 1st, 1977 of the British American Oil Co. Ltd., with the offering price being $100 and accrued interest.

The B.C. Telephone bonds constituted a 1st Mortgage on all of the fixed assets owned by the company at the date of execution. The company is the second largest telephone system in Canada and it owns and operates the principal telephone system in the Province of B.C. The B.C. Telephone and its predecessor companies have been carrying on business continuously since 1891, the present company having been incorporated by special act of the Parliament of Canada in 1916. These bonds moved well into the hands of investors and at the weekend were showing at about the issue price on the bid side.

The B.A. Oil Co. Ltd. is the second largest Canadian Refiner and Marketer of petroleum and petroleum products, and since its acquisition of the Canadian Gulf Oil Co. Ltd., it is now the largest holder of Canadian Natural Gas reserves. Similar to a provision contained in the B.C. Telephone issue, the B.A. Oil Co. Ltd. may not redeem its debentures other than for Sinking Fund purposes in order to enhance at a lower interest rate, prior to April 1st, 1967. This is a provision which has been put into a number of the recent bond and debenture issues and a protection, particularly for institutional buyers who wish to know definitely.

Treatment for alcoholics

Payment last week of the final instalment of a $50,000 government grant to the Alcoholism Foundation of Manitoba is expected to enable the foundation to conclude negotiations for the establishment of a treatment centre for alcoholics.

The foundation was set up following the last session of the Legislature for the treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics and for the purpose of conducting public education programs and research into alcoholism.

Health minister R. W. Bend said most of the $50,000 grant has been earmarked for building a treatment centre which will be available to alcoholics and their families and where superficial medical treatment will be administered. Patients who require more intensive medical care will be treated at hospital. Mr. Bend said both the Winnipeg General and St. Boniface Hospitals had offered to provide beds for alcoholic patients.

Manitoba cabinet last week (Jan. 15) completed payment of the foundation's grant for the present fiscal year when it authorized turning over the sum of $20,000. Future plans of the foundation include the setting up of a rehabilitation centre which will provide longer-term treatment.

Temporary shelter still under study

Persons living in what is now known as temporary housing, which includes make-shift shacks and trailers which have been on property other than trailer parks for more than six months were given another reprieve on Monday afternoon in Surrey County.

A committee of three which included the building inspector, recommended that all temporary building permits be eliminated. However they suggested that as the matter was one of vital importance, and would effect a number of residents, a further study and discussion should take place before any definite steps are taken. They recommended that the present shacks be done away with and that the by-law be changed so persons who were contemplating building a home would have to frame a proper house with a roof on same, and that the room or rooms be completed to the extent that they would be suitable for occupancy.

This, the committee felt, would give the builder something tangible to sell in case he found himself running out of funds, or in the case of illness, or for any other reason which may temporarily halt him from finishing the building.

The committee feels that once a person was in a home which had been properly constructed as outlined, he could take all the time he wanted to finish it.

In the matter of trailers, recommendation is that as there are enough trailer courts around, trailer owners should move to one of them once their six month permit

MRS. SOPHIA ANDERSON PASSES CENTURY MARK

Mrs. Sophie Anderson will celebrate her 101st birthday this Wednesday, February 20th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Georgina McLeod, with whom she resides at Peguis, eight miles north of Selkirk.

Mrs. Anderson is the daughter of James Bird and Isabel Gibson. Her father stayed with Bishop Machray for a while on his arrival from England, then started up the first spinning and weaving mill on the west side of the Red River at Old St. Andrews, before going to Peguis to farm.

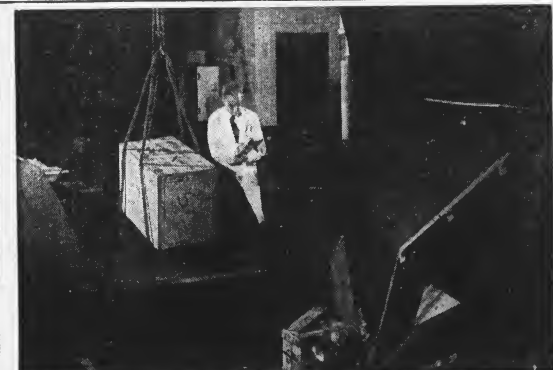

Mrs. Anderson has many memories of those days and recalls her happy days at St. Andrews when she attended Miss Davis' School for young ladies. In 1880 she married William Turner Sable and they moved to Winnipeg where, after less than two years of marriage he died of typhoid and his widow returned to her father's farm. Eight years later she married George Anderson, who was accidentally killed when working at the old cold storage plant in Selkirk.

She had two sons Harry Sable, who was killed in a traffic accident, and Edward Anderson who died in World War I.

There are three daughters: Mrs. George Flett, Mrs. Katharine Clemons, and Mrs. Georgina McLeod, 28 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Anderson is in good health and continues her hobby of making mats although she has given up knitting, weaving and spinning. Her eyesight is still very good, and her memory and interest in what has expired.

The committee is expected to meet with Council soon to discuss the matter more thoroughly.—The Surrey Leader, Cloverdale, B.C., March 14, 1937.

Funny and Otherwise

Frebbles, the new butler at Evergreen Manor, had dubious references, but a certain swagger and glint in his eye that pleased Mrs. Wainwright.

Passing the vegetables at a formal dinner one evening, Frebbles came to a very dead old lady. "Peas, ma'am?" he inquired. No answer. "Peas, ma'am?" he repeated more loudly.

The old lady saw him hovering over her and lifted an ear trumpet in his direction.

Frebbles was surprised but undaunted. "Well, if that's the way you want them, lady," he chuckled, "that's the way you'll get them." And down went the peas into the ear trumpet.

The head of a big corporation was in an unusually expansive mood at the Kewgard luncheon. "My son made his first million yesterday since he got out of college six months ago," he explained. "Sold the watch we gave him for graduation?"

A milkmaid looked up from his newspaper in time to see his wife dashing out the front door. "Going shopping?" he called after her. "I haven't got the time," she called back. "I'm just going to get a few things I need."

The course of true justice took an odd twist in an Illinois courtroom some time ago. A slick young lawyer assured the judge, "It wasn't really my client who ransacked the home of the plaintiff. He noted that a window was wide open, and merely inserted his arm—and removed a few inconsequential nick-knacks. Now you will admit that my client's arm is not technically himself. Why punish all of him for an indiscretion committed by only one of his limbs?"

The judge thought that one over for a moment, then decreed, "An ingenious defence—and following it logically, I sentence this defendant's arm to one year in jail. He may accompany the arm or not, as he chooses."

The laughter of the courtroom attendants was checked abruptly when the defendant calmly removed his artificial arm, put it down on the judge's bench and walked out.

When Mike started filling his pipe, the little lady sharing a seat with him on the bus placed her foot on his knee. "Pardon me," she stated, "but tobacco smoke makes me very ill."

"In that case," suggested Mike benignly, "filling his pipe, "If I were you, I'd certainly give it up."

Wightman supports margarine coloring

Speaking in the Manitoba Legislature Friday last, R. F. Wightman, M.L.A. Assiniboia, roundly scored restrictive legislation against any section of industry. "It is most distressing to see on our statutes nuisance legislation such as that disallowing the coloring of margarine," he said. He pointed out that attempts to patent red electric signs had been disallowed by the courts, which stated that color could not be patented and could be used by anybody who wishes to do so.

Mr. Wightman deplored the publicity which had attended the opposition to legislation allowing coloring of margarine which he termed "exceedingly harmful to the dairy industry and only resulted in advertising margarine which had consequently spiraled in sales to greater heights. The interests of the public are better served when free and open competition is allowed in the marketing of produce," he asserted.

Mr. Wightman expressed his pleasure at the passing of the legislation calling for paving of the north side of Portage avenue from Sharpe boulevard to the eastern limits of the city of St. James, a distance of 1.6 miles this year. It is expected that work will start on the project as soon as practicable.—The Leader, St. James, Man., March 14, 1937.

Sven Erickson Addresses Trade Bd. On Tourist Business

Mr. Sven Erickson of the Lethbridge Chamber of Commerce was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Coleman Board of Trade on April 24.

Mr. Erickson's theme was on the tourist business and how it affects the community.

He stated that tourist business was fast becoming big business, and that more consideration must be given its promotion. Everyone in the community benefited from it if we tried to give fair and adequate service in our hotels, motels and eating places. By this he meant that a certain standard should be maintained in reasonable prices, good accommodation and good, clean eating places.

Too many people in business tried to milk every tourist dollar that they could with very little being given in return for the money spent. As an example he stated that motels were going in to the ultra-modern high priced field and becoming too expensive for the average tourist, who had two or three weeks vacation and with possibly two or three hundred dollars to spend.

These tourists and their families could not afford the price of the expensive motels. If an area gets the reputation of not giving the tourist a fair deal this is passed along with the result tourists shy away from the area.

Camping facilities were a major part played in good tourist relations and he called upon all tourist-minded business people to make the most of the natural facilities afforded in their areas. No. 3 highway was a natural and was becoming known as the camping highway.

Mr. Erickson blasted the inspection of eating places, especially so in South Alberta. He stated that many towns in the south had not had health inspections for five years or more, and some towns had no health inspection officers.

In giving a few tourist dollar facts Mr. Erickson stated that Canadians had spent more in the United States last year than the Americans had spent in Canada, and that the theme of the Canadian Tourist Association was "See Canada First"—that we have many beautiful attractions right here in Canada that so many of us have never seen.

Mr. Erickson's speech was enthusiastically received by Board members. He stated that he was subbing for Mr. Harold Long, who was supposed to attend, but due to confinement in the hospital was unable to be present. Other Lethbridge Chamber of Commerce members attending were Mr. W. C. Hill and Mr. Heaton. Both of these gentlemen commended the Coleman Board for their spark and go-ahead.

General business to come before the members was the erection of flush toilets in the park. An approach had been made to the town council for permission to proceed with this project, but that the council were of the opinion that more information should be gathered as to the operation of toilet facilities in such parks before action was taken. This project was tabled until next meeting.

The weather and road report committee informed the meeting that they had contacted the Department of Transport on the weather report and that more information was required before a weather station could be placed in the Crow's Nest Pass area. With regard to the road report information was sent in daily to Lethbridge from the following sources — Pass Express, Cranbrook, Fernie, Grand Union Hotel via Greyhound Bus drivers and from the CPR station.

A request from the Waterton Board of Trade for a float to be entered in their annual event was received and the Board will comply by sending a float.

The committee reported on the meeting with the School Board, and stated they were well satisfied with the present set-up of our schools without entering into a school division.

A request from the Crow's Nest Pass Cancer Society for the Board to take over the annual cancer drive was rejected due to the fact that the Board was too tied up with the 1957 annual Rodeo preparations to undertake this project this year.

The Civic Centre proposed dispersal of funds was discussed and the Board went on record as having these funds turned over to the Sports Association for use on the arena.

A very interesting piece of information was given by Mr. George Jenkins on the operation of the Coleman Community Sports Association, and the dire financial straits that the Association was in.

Mr. Jenkins stated that due to the depressed conditions experienced here in Coleman the dues to the Association had dropped from 1100 men working in the mines in 1954 to 20 men today with the result that the Association was only receiving $93 per month from this source, $300 from the business section, and about $150 from the men working in the Michel mines during the last year. He stated that the directors of the Association after very careful study had come to the conclusion that they had no alternative but to raise dues from 25c to 50c per month if the Association was to continue in operation. The Board accepted this raise and felt that the raise was a very cheap expenditure for the wonderful benefits gained. Representatives appointed to represent the business men from the Board were Mr. O. Ceill and Mr. W. Fraser on the Sports Association. The final business of the meeting was the picking of section chairmen to supervise the Mothers' March to be held on May 4 from 7 to 8 p.m. for the purpose of selling advance tickets on the Rodeo festivities.

On his return to Canada after three years service he settled in Bellevue where he worked for the Pass Dairy for three years and then went to work at the Bellevue mine as an underground worker, and then a trucker.

May 3, 1954, he became employed at the National Employment Service offices in Balmore where he is still on the staff.

During his years in Bellevue he has taken an active interest in community affairs, being one of the original founders of the Bellevue Volunteer Fire Brigade. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Decrease Is Shown In Coal Production

EDMONTON (CP) — Coal production in Alberta, reflecting the differences in severity of the last two winters, showed another decrease during March, the mines department reported.

For March, production totalled 195,326 tons, more than a third lower than the 348,103 tons turned out in the same month of 1956. The tonnage decrease was 152,777.

For the first three months of 1957, coal production in the province has totalled 999,880 tons, down 423,557 tons from the previous year's first quarter.

The decrease in output indicates the lower demand for coal during the last winter, which in comparison with the previous winter was mild. Production during the 1955-56 winter months was up considerably as severe temperatures increased consumption.

The Crow's Nest Pass area, once a thriving mining district, showed the sharpest decline in March this year, dropping to 33,622 tons from the 106,057 produced in the same month of 1956.

BURTON

We must get old and new industry rolling in the Pass and soon. Mean while, the Federal Government's social security program has helped the Pass. Canada's program is the best in the world—bar none.

You are all familiar with "the baby bonus." Some people receive old age pensions. The payments under both of these programs were increased this past winter.

Unemployment insurance has certainly proved helpful here in the Pass in recent years. The Government of Canada puts up one-fifth of the combined contributions of employer and employee and shoulders the costs of administration.

Ottawa has also helped with the cost of hospital construction. The Crow's nest Pass Municipal Hospital received over $45,000 under this program.

The program of assistance for veterans has helped those men and women who have done so much for Canada.

More than one-quarter of the Federal Tax Dollar is spent on social security. Once the new Hospital Insurance Program goes into effect this will be raised to one-third.

Canada's Liberal Government stands for the welfare of all Canadians—not for a privileged few. Let's keep it that way!

Fernie Rangers Had Profitable Season

(Published by Request)

The most profitable season in Fernie hockey history, from a financial point of view, is revealed in the financial report of the Rangers Hockey Club.

A total profit of $1,115.37 is shown, of which $883.72 has been added to the general account and $231.65 to the players' benefit fund.

Total revenue for the season, from all sources, was $6,345.71, of which gate receipts accounted for $5,212.85. Most costly items on the expense side of the ledger were rink rental, $2,066.30; travelling and meals, $1,581; and equipment, $840.93.

Club officials expressed themselves as highly pleased with the season's operations, the only sour note being the two $25 fines imposed by the league for the breaking of regulations.

One of the fines was imposed for the Rangers' part in arranging a four-game final playoff series with Coleman, without first consulting league officials. At a previous league meeting a last-of-three series had been decided on. Coleman Grands were also assessed $25.

Fernie officials were of the opinion that acceptance by the league officials of their 10 per cent share of the gate receipts from the extra two games was an indication of their approval.

It was felt that it was inconsistent on the part of the league to accept money from the games, and at the same time fine the teams for playing them.

The second fine imposed on the Rangers was for not having the required number of players in uniform for the final play-off game against Coleman.

While Coleman had already won the league title and the game was regarded as strictly an exhibition affair, it was nevertheless protested by Ted Kryczka, Coleman coach, in spite of the fact he had given Fernie permission to use a Michel player in order to ice the required number of players.

Fernie officials agreed they had broken regulations and were quite cheerful about paying the fine. On the other hand, they felt it was something less than sporting for Coleman to file a protest because the very name Coleman team had, in a regular league game committee identical offence when they failed to ice the required 11 players in a game at Fernie.

Rangers, however, had refrained from lodging a protest.

League president Leon Rushall was not available for comment before press time.

Hill is another of those rare gridders, like Larry Isbell, who can do just about everything and do it well. He is a speedy and shifty runner, can pass and is a fine pass receiver, is a punter and place-kicker. His multi-talents made him the second highest scorer in U.S. college football ranks in 1936 when he amassed 106 points, just one short of the record set by Syracuse's famed Jimmy Brown.

Hill is a six-footer weighing 185 pounds and is regarded as the best backfielder to come out of Utah State since Earl Lindley. He was an all-Skyline Conference all-star choice in 1936 and was drafted by the Baltimore Colts.

Infinite series

Many Canadian newspaper editors have been critical of the Federal government's printing operations. From a modest beginning with Hansard, letterheads and perhaps some cabinet memo pads, the business of the Queen's Printer has blossomed into being really big business. Not so long ago some editors who try to do a little printing business on the side were complaining that this waste growth had become so profuse the government printers were now turning out thick catalogues listing all the titles of the material they printed.

And now, they say, the ultimate has been reached—the Queen's Printer has produced a brochure that catalogues the catalogues—The Printed Word.

DUBLIN'S LORD MAYOR IN NEW YORK—Dublin's Lord Mayor, Robert Briscoe, lights up on arrival at New York's Idlewild Airport. The first Jewish Mayor of Dublin journeyed to Manhattan to review the big St. Patrick's Day parade.

PUNCTUREPROOF—Lying on a bed of nails isn't the easiest thing in the world but Fakir Tarha Bey increases its difficulty by letting two people ride over him on a motor scooter at Paris' Olympia Music Hall.

TAKE SPECIAL COURSE—About a hundred youths, mainly from rural communities on the Prairies have almost finished a two-months special army militia course at Winnipeg. Offered each year at this time the training is popular with the men who otherwise might have little to do on the farm at this season. They get full pay and allowances and qualify as a trained soldier before returning to their homes and perhaps part-time militia activity. Here James Jones of Cochin, Sask., poses with his rifle.

FIRE SAFETY

An official of the local fire brigade says that the brigade has answered more calls during the first weeks in January than it did throughout November and December.

The reason, of course, is that heating systems often become overtaxed during the colder weather, and consequently are more apt to be overworked. A few minutes spent in checking this vital part of the home may prove to be the best insurance against loss of property or life.—Cavillon News, Steinbach, Man., Jan. 25/57.

69 Air ambulance flights in February

The Saskatchewan Air Ambulance Service completed 69 flights during February transporting patients to medical attention according to a report issued by D. N. Campbell, chief pilot and supervisor of the Service.

During the month, Nurse D. A.

ROSE A. SUTHERLAND

Gilliland left the service to be married. Miss Gilliland is a native of Humboldt and spent a year and a half with the Air Ambulance. Her place was taken by Miss Rose A. Sutherland of Assiniboia. Miss Sutherland graduated from the Regina Grey Nuns' Hospital in 1949 and took post graduate work at the Winnipeg General. For the past year and a half she had worked as a Public Health Nurse with the Department of Public Health in Regina and Assiniboia.

In January six commercial aircraft companies made a total of 38 flights under the direction of the Air Ambulance. These flights were completed by Parsons Airways Northern Limited, Flin Flon; Saskatchewan Government Airways, Prince Albert; Trans Air Limited, Winnipeg; Athabaska Airways Ltd., Prince Albert; Canadian Pacific Airlines and Thomas Lamb Airways, The Pas.

The first indications of the spring thaw were felt by the Service during February with three flights completed due to unserviceable fields.

Radio fire alarm ready by June 1st

Surrey's new fire radio system should be in operation by the 1st of June according to fire chief Ray Feather. Pacific Communications Limited are expected to start installing the first of 22 mobile units during the second week of April. There will also be a base or headquarters unit installed at the Municipal Hall in Cloverdale.

Port Kells, Hazelton and Cloverdale will be on a direct wire telephone system to the hall, while the other areas will call their own respective departments as before. However, if anyone does not know their own hall number, a general fire phone number should be known by everyone and this call would go straight to the municipal hall. They will in turn despatch the proper unit.

Once a truck is on the air it will notify headquarters via its two-way radio.

If for any reason a truck on the way to a fire has trouble they could call in and another truck would be despatched without any delay.

It would work the same way if a truck finds that when they arrive at the scene of a fire that it is a major blaze which requires help. The chief could then ask the operator to send other units to the scene.

Sullivan will be the only fire district not going on the new system right at the start, but it is expected they will have their unit installed some time during the summer.—The Surrey Leader, Cloverdale, B.C., March 21, 1957.

Ferry sought

A petition is being circulated by the Alder Flats Chamber of Commerce to have the Department of Highways institute a ferry service over the North Saskatchewan river where it would afford a shorter more direct route to the Pembina River district.—The Times, Westsaskatoon, Alta.—Jan. 23, 1957.

Normandville in spotlight with new finds

"Normandville," which faded from the oil spotlight after a brief run as a pioneer northern oil discovery, this week was stepping back into the limelight as a potential major field.

Oilmen were taking a new look at the area on the heels of an announcement that oil has been found in commercial quantities in two new horizons.—The Times, Westsaskatoon, Alta., March 1/57.

Everybody a community booster

(From The Plaindealer, Souris, Man.)

What advertises a community, what makes it well and favourably known, or what tends to belittle its stature is an interesting study for anyone with the welfare of his particular home town at heart. So many elements are involved in the makeup of a community which is progressive and well and favourably known at home and abroad, that sometimes misconceptions can occur and overemphasis be placed on certain phases of the community's activities.

For instance, it is very easy to become so pre-occupied with competitive sport or some other much more spectacular activity that other components of the successful components of the successful community tend to become overlooked. We believe that every loyal citizen of a city, town or village must do their share in creating the overall atmosphere and reputation of that particular place. Your service clubs, churches, schools, fraternal organizations, and businesses influence such a condition, and without their co-operation and helpful effort no individual organization or group can produce an effect that will prevail for more than a fleeting period of time and over a very limited area.

The well-run industry, no matter how small, which produces a good product, going out into the world bearing the name of its place or origin contributes its share; the merchant who through superior service, buying ability and merchandising experience creates satisfied customers and draws their trade to his particular town, is an important asset; your businessman who attends regional and national conventions of his particular trade classification in order to keep abreast of modern methods and returns to his community to adapt these to the benefit of his clientele; all enter into the portrayal of a successful, progressive and expanding area.

Indeed it is not the size of the town which counts but the calibre and ability of its citizens. Growth very seldom comes to municipalities for other reason than that people of the community have created a favourable impression and the potential newcomer who will swell its ranks finds its atmosphere attractive in which to live and conduct a business. So that while we endorse and support such organizations as the Chamber of Commerce and the service clubs, etc., we should never forget that our own individual efforts and those of our fellow-citizens are essential in creating that favourable reputation which often has so much to do with its welfare and advancement.

The "babies" have taken over

(From The Sun, Swift Current, Sask.)

If the city's older service clubs—Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions—do not look to their laurels they are going to find themselves in the wings, instead of on stage, in the matter of community service. As a matter of fact, based on last year's performance, the older clubs have already taken a back seat, and the "baby clubs" have taken over. A comparison of the number of projects sponsored by the various local clubs shows that the Jaycees and Kinsmen were by far the most active and more prevalent in the public spotlight last year.

This may come as rather a shock to members of the "old guard," as it did to this newspaper, because consensus was at one time that local community service was being well covered and many in the rank and file of the older-established clubs felt there was no room for more service clubs in Swift Current. What the "baby clubs" have accomplished since their organization has knocked that idea into a cocked hat. They have not only created room, but have proven that there is practically no end to community service, having instituted angles that were unthought of before they organized.

From the public viewpoint it doesn't really matter who does the community service so long as it is done, but its accomplishment is a matter of concern and pride to those who create the need and carry it out. In this respect the "baby clubs" have been doing a magnificent job and have already won more than their share of public recognition and appreciation.

No one, of course, can minimize the tremendous community-service projects the older clubs have carried out through the years, or relegate them to the limbo. They are very much with us and their impact is being felt. But statistics indicate that they are, nevertheless, not so active as they once were. And therein lies a danger. With the "baby clubs" so active, they should not bask under a bushel or rest on their laurels. If this attitude is adopted they will find that the "babies" have taken over.

Management required...

(From The Mail, Drumheller, Alberta—Feb. 6, 1957)

Farming experience and farm business management are not the same thing. A farmer may have years of experience but without sound management the farm will not prove as successful as it should.

Normally the farmer's best market is a domestic one. Today's trends promised an increase in demand on that market due to increasing population. Farm production is increasing even though farm population is decreasing. This means fewer people are working larger average holdings.

With our development has come increased purchasing power among consumers and certain changes in choice of foods. Since capacity of the human stomach is limited, the volume must remain fairly constant: 23-25 percent of expendable income.

The figures indicate changes in foods which may mean some changes in basic programs in the prairie provinces. For instance, more potatoes are being eaten than 20 years ago, 20 percent more vegetables, 23 percent more meat and milk solids, 50 percent more fruit and 20 percent less cereals.

Farming is a business. Record must be kept and comparisons made. Only in this way can the leaks be plugged and the more profitable enterprises recognized. Your district agriculturist can suggest how.

From father to son

(From The Eagle, Rosetown, Sask.)

It is a privilege, on behalf of our community, to express their deep appreciation for volunteer work well done, to Doug Wilson, who just recently resigned as chief of the Rosetown Fire Brigade. Doug filled this position with a quiet efficiency which is typical of the man, and which gained him the respect of all his associates.

It is possibly unique, in the history of small town volunteer fire brigades, that he should have held an office which was first filled in 1912 by his father, the late Andy Wilson. Since 1912 the following men have held this important position: Andy Wilson, Bill Graham, Wallace McDonald, Art Jennings, Linus Kunkel, George Shaw, Graham Staples and Doug Wilson.

Also unique in such organizations is the service of George Shaw and Harry Molliat. Each of these men devoted about thirty-three years to the Rosetown fire brigade.

Fred Walters is our new fire chief and to him and his volunteer brigade, as well as to the many unselfish men who served so faithfully in the past, we say thank you.

War declared on heart disease

(From The Sun, Swift Current, Sask.)

It comes as good news that the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association is undertaking to provide some $60,000 over the next two years to firmly establish and support the National Heart Foundation of Canada. The foundation has been set up to co-ordinate research in Canada in cardiovascular diseases and to educate members of the profession in that branch of medical science.

The Foundation will survey the whole field of heart disease research and endeavor to eliminate overlapping of scientific investigations. It will also demonstrate to the general practitioners how to apply research results, and assist them in diagnosis and treatment of cardiovascular disease under their care.

The importance of this forward step in the promotion of better health for Canadians is better realized when it is borne in mind that diseases of the heart and the related vascular diseases are the No. 1 killer, not alone among the insurance companies' policyholders, but the Canadian population, generally.

Hard working wives

(From The Mirror, Rossland, B.C.)

If you think you are working harder than your wife, you're probably very much mistaken, says The Financial Post. It reports that a U.S. study based on six years of experiment, says most men don't. Energy consumption averages housewife on her chores: Three to five calories a minute, more than that expended by clerks, executives, most skilled trades. However, laundry and dock workers, farmers, use more than housewives.

Highly Successful
Bonspiel in Pass

(Courtesy Lethbridge Herald)

BLAIRMORE — (CNP Bureau) One of the biggest and best Bunny Bonspiels yet held in the Crows Nest Pass came to a very successful close in the Blairmore arena shortly before midnight Sunday, after completing a four day session of curling.

Winners of the number one event was the Eric Biggrove rink of Kimberley, B. C., who defeated the Narcombe rink of Staveland in the 12 end finals. Second and third in this event were the W. Schieffelin rink of Calgary, and the Gordon Pangman rink of Medicine Hat.

In event number two the Howard Dancy rink of Blairmore, downed the Squar M rink from Banff, while third and fourth prizes were won by the McKay rink of Milk River and the Floyd Freeman rink of Edmonton.

In event number three the Cyril Hockstein rink of Pincher Creek won out over the Doug Oliver rink of Blairmore, while runners-up for third and fourth prizes were the Dick Morgan rink of Blairmore, and the Leffingwell rink of Lethbridge.

In event number four the Bob Lathwaite rink of Calgary defeated the Buck Jack rink of Pincher Creek, while the Bill Liddell rink of Coleman took third and the J. Kulig rink of Coleman won fourth.

In event number five the Tony Vejprava rink of Blairmore, won out over the Yanosik rink of Camangay, while the Sloan rink of East Coulee took third prize and the McKenzie rink of Magrath, took fourth place.

During the presentation of prizes in the arena by president of the Blairmore Curling Club Sam Bannan, a number of other prizes were given by the club to various participating teams. Winner of the best dressed team was awarded to the Chick Roughhead rink of Coleman, who were attired, kilts and all, in Scottish costumes and were piped onto the ice by Pipe Major Jock Moore of Coleman.

William Roughhead was also awarded a prize for being the oldest skip in the bonspiel.

A prize was awarded to the Parkinson rink of St. Albert, Edmonton, for being the farthest out of town rink to enter the 'spiel'.

During the presentation of the $2,000 in prizes, President Bannan called upon Gordon Alexander, president of the Alberta (Northern) Curling Association, and awarded him a gift on behalf of the local curling club.

The Bunny 'Spiel', the biggest that has ever been held in the Pass had 88 rinks entered with draws for all games being made by drawmaster Milt Congdon, of Blairmore, who assigned the rinks to the 10 sheets of artificial ice that was put into top shape by ice-maker Walt Cleave and members of the local curling club.

Nobody would deliberately walk in front of a cannon about to be fired, but too many people take the same risk by walking blindly into moving traffic.
